

Dear parent

What is a group activity? And how is your child tucked up when it's time for their afternoon nap at nursery?

It might seem difficult preparing your child for the new routines that go hand in hand with starting nursery when your child is not yet talking.

DR Minisjang has created the TV series Børste og vuggestuen (Hedgy at the Nursery), which shows toddlers what to expect when starting nursery.

Prepare your child with Børste og vuggestuen

New beginnings are often difficult. However, being properly prepared often helps.

Before starting nursery, it's important that you prepare your child for all the new things they are likely to experience.

The nine short Børste og vuggestuen episodes will do just that. We follow the toddlers Vilfred, Lucia, Oliver and Agnes, who all attend nursery. And we get to see what daily life is like for them.

We see how the children react when their parents say goodbye in the morning, or how upset they become when somebody else is given the last piece of banana. We also see how the children are comforted, and that they soon feel happy again.

The series will give your child an insight into life at nursery even though you are not yet able to talk about it together.

Watch at home

You can watch the series online www.dk/spire and on DRTV. Enjoy!
